Steam Job Printing and Publishing House has asked facilities for entering on the Printing Business, as any establishment of the kind in the State.

PAMPHLETS, POSTERS, CIRCULARS, BANK CHECKS, DRAFTS, PROGRAMMES, CARDS of all descriptions and sizes:

HOTEL PRINTING of all kinds together with Printing in COLORED INKS AND BRONZE.

Nestly, Cheaply and promptly executed.

As the office is thoroughly stocked with new type of all descriptions, and FAST POWER PRESSES, the proprietor feels confident that his work will continue to give the same satisfaction that it has during past years.

GEORGE T. HAMMOND
Proprietor.

LITTLE PREACHERS.—Little Emma H. — once went to visit a young playmate whose father, was a pious man. The day after she returned home, as the family sat down to the breakfast table, she turned to her own father, and said in a very grave voice :

" Papa, won't you ask a blessing, like Mr. F. does?"

" Not now, dear," said Mr. H.—; " I am not in the habit of it."

" May I papa?"

" Certainly, if you wish to, my child."

Then Emma clasped her little hands, and bowed her head, until her brown curls almost covered her face, and said, reverently :

" Our Father who art in heaven, please to bless this nice breakfast, and make papa and mamma, and Georgie and me, very good peoples, for Christ's sake. Amen."

Was not that a sermon for Mr. H.—?

Some months afterwards little Emma was taken very ill, and the doctor said she must die. Oh! with what anxious solicitude did her parents hang over her couch, tending to her short, labored breath, smoothing her feverish pillow, and holding cooling draughts to her parched lips! How eagerly did they listen to the incoherent words she uttered, and watched for the first symptoms of returning reason!

" Oh! if she will only speak to me once more, how comforted I shall be!" cried a weeping mother.

" I cannot give you up my darling!"

At this moment Emma opened her eyes, and looked up, in his face with her own natural expression.

"Papa," said she, "I'm going to heaven. I want you to come too, when Jesus is you. May 'Our Father,' won't you, pray?"

Mr. H.——snook upon his knees, trembling.

"Can't you say it, dear papa?" urged weak voice. "I will help you, if you'll say it" and she began the familiar words, father's broken voice joining with her. Before the prayer was closed her strength failed; she sighed softly, and went through a struggle her happy spirit ascended to the bosom of her Saviour, there to dwell forever. Will Emma's father forget the prayer that she loved, or sermon which her brief life preached him? No, no.

Connected Members. Miss Helen M.

ger, a young lady who spent several years with her parents in Salt Lake City, married recently at Cincinnati. She is to be young, intelligent, and speaks with a fluency that at once secures the attention and sympathy of the audience. I did not state much that was not familiar to general readers. The Mormon life lived by her is the same as that drawn forth by her father, either in person or by means of printed books. She says that the sermons published as coming from the lips of Kimball and Brigham are true, and that they are the essence of the worst thoughts of those men. Such is the influence of the doctrines of Mormonism that the females of Nauvoo are pictures of despair. Miss Fessenden and her parents emigrated to Utah in 1844, her father being a convert to Mormonism, but her mother not. They fled from the city only by misleading authorities as to their destination; after traveling southerly for one day,

The Unconscious Destiny of Man.—In a recent sermon Henry Ward Beecher said : "The thread that goes into the loom does not know what it wants, or where it goes until it is forming. It follows blindly and meekly, and comes out at last on the side of the shining silk, in vine, and leaf, blossom, or some figure. So we are led in a wily and by an influence at the time we cannot interpret. If we have faith that God leads us, and follow implicitly, these things we cannot stand, work themselves out in our lives. We are in bondage of old superstition, the worship of nine hundred and ninety-nine churches in a thousand is yet tinged with the sombreness illustrative of the element of fear. The lightness, the cheer, the cheer of true worship, is but a shadow."

WIDE AWAKES, ATTEND!!!

Your ears have been crowned with an extraordinary success. Your "WIDE AWAKE" has been grandly responded to. Victory is ours!

You will meet at Wide Awake Hall on THURSDAY EVENING, at 7 o'clock, for a grand parade, and salute in honor of the victory.

Per order, R. E. HAZARD, Jr., Pres't.

OUR VICTORY.

Now that the noise of the battle has ceased, and the smoke thereof blown away, we begin to have that leisure and opportunity which we lacked at first, of looking over the battle ground, and recollecting to mind the incidents of the contest, and its glorious termination.

To say that ours has been a success, in speaking in same language of what was a most glorious victory, rivaling in its brilliancy, magnitude and prospective results, the achievements of a Perry on Lake Erie, or a Wellington at Waterloo. We will not speculate nor enlarge upon these: the published returns indicate the one, the future must unfold the other.

The announcement of their success and triumph was received by our Republican co-workers in this city with a calmness that is surprising, considering the bitterness of their opponents during the campaign, and the insults and indignities received at their hands and with their connivance. There was no howl of exultation, such as was heard from the supporters of Douglas immediately on the reception of the news that New York city had gone Douglas by thirty thousand majority. There was, it is true, cheering in front of the Daily News office as each successive despatch was read announcing fresh victories, but it soon subsided, and long before the hour of midnight the stillness of the Sabbath reigned in our streets. There was no breaking of the midnight stillness by the thunder of cannon or other sounds calculated to add to the dismay of their already disheartened opponents. Having done a good day's work, they early sought their homes to enjoy its reward in a good night's rest.

We were particularly happy in being able to lay before our readers yesterday morning, the entire returns of the election so far as they transpired up to 6 1/2 o'clock A. M., not being eclipsed, even, in this respect, by our more pretending contemporaries in the larger cities, a thing never before accomplished in the annals of journalism in this city. In this connection we would not be unmindful of the kindness of R. B. Kinley, Esq., manager of the telegraph line here, in affording facilities for the prosecution of our plan; nor of our obligations to Mr. John Sheridan, the operator, for the very prompt and efficient manner in which he performed the arduous duties devolving upon him during the whole of Tuesday night. We would also express our obligations to those kind friends who lent us such valuable aid in our tedious and protracted labors in preparing the returns for the press during that night. The occasion was one worthy of their and our best efforts, and was in itself a sufficient reward.

There were smiling faces on the street yesterday, and warm congratulations exchanged between men who had stood shoulder to shoulder in the contest. They had counted on victory, but the reality so far exceeded their expectations, that joy with them was spontaneous as their breath.

The Wide Awakes will parade this evening, in honor of the victory for the achievement of which they have labored so constantly and so faithfully. Let the celebration be commensurate with the magnitude of their triumph.

"Let us swell the breeze, And break from all the trees Sweet freedom's song. Let mortal tongues awake, Let all that breathe partake, Let rocks their silence break, The sound prolong."

All honor to the Republicans of this city! They have needed no orator's eloquence to spur them on to action, but have moved steadily, manfully and unflinchingly forward to the fulfillment of a high and holy duty. They shall see their reward in the regeneration of their country, so long under "Democratic misrule."

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

Wide Awake Demonstration Night.

The Wide Awakes of this city will parade this evening at half past 7 o'clock, accompanied by Gilmore's full Brass Band. Wide Awakes will assemble at 7 precisely. At half past 8 a salute of 100 guns will be fired in Touro Park.

The line of march will be from the Hall down Thames Street to Dearborn, up Dearborn to Spring, up Spring to Franklin, down Franklin to Thames, up Thames to Bridge, down Bridge to Washington, up Washington to Walnut, up Walnut to Second, down Second to Willow, down Willow to Third, up Third to Elm, up Elm to Fourth, through Fourth to Poplar, up Poplar to Thames, down Thames to the Parade, up the Parade to Mann Avenue, up Mann Avenue to Kay Street, down Kay to Touro, up Touro to the Park, where the salute will be fired.

An illumination of private residences on the line of march is suggested.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Two Days Later from Europe.

St. John, N. E., Nov. 4th, via Sackville, 6th.—The steamship Persia from Liverpool, Saturday 27th ult., via Queens-town 28th, arrived off Cape Race at 9 P. M., on Sunday, where she was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press. Her arrival is two days later than those received by the Adriatic.

It was reported that the Austrian government had proposed mediation with France for a pacific solution of the Italian question. The position of the hostile forces in Italy was literally unchanged.

Some details of the voting on the question of annexation confirm the previous reports that the result was almost unanimously in favor of annexation.

The British Legion in Italy had a smart encounter with the royalists at Capua, but were victorious, with a loss of six killed and thirty wounded.

Spain had withdrawn its ambassador from Turin, leaving its affairs in the hands of a charge.

The text of the Russian note to Sardinia, protesting against her course in the affairs of Italy, and ordering her Legation to retire is published. It is very strong in its tone.

It is stated that the English admiral is going to Gaeta for the purpose of protecting the flight of the King of Naples.

The Emperor Napoleon held a military council relative to the formation of a new plan of an army of reserve. All the marshals attended.

The Opinions Nationale caused considerable sensation in all quarters by publishing an article, branding the Warsaw meeting as nothing but a conspiracy on the part of the Governments represented there against France, and also charged England with being a go-between.

The same journal gives a report that the Government of Austria proposes to negotiate with France for a pacific solution of the Italian question. She will resort to arms with the countenance of her new allies.

The Warsaw meeting abruptly adjourned on the 26th, owing to the illness of the Dowager Empress of Russia.

Vienna, 26th.—An order has been issued to prepare for the coronation of Francis Joseph, as King of Hungary next Spring. Warlike preparations are being extensively increased on the Minio.

A Volunteer Rifle Company in England, lately met to choose officers: a suggestion was made that all the gentlemen desirous of becoming officers should retire during the election, when, to the general astonishment, it was found that only three members of the company were left to proceed with business. The three gentlemen, however, did not flinch from their duty, and those who had retired were in due time summoned back to the meeting. They were then informed that the meeting had felt great difficulty about the selection, because the claims of all who had left the room were so conspicuous it seemed invidious to take one in preference to another. Under these circumstances, the meeting had adopted the most obvious and satisfactory way of escaping the difficulty, by electing themselves to fill the three vacant posts.

The Louisville Democrat says that as Yancey was coming down in the cars from Frankfort a collection of four or five wags assembled at one of the stations, who cried lustily, Yancey! Yancey! Yancey! A satisfied smirk crossed the visage of the arch-igniter at the demonstration, and a gentleman who had been seated with him arose and stepped out to the platform, not to speak, but to listen. He was mistaken for Yancey, and a stentorian voice, like the concentrated howling of a park of artillery, bawled out, "Here he is, boys, bring along the rope to hang him." The gentleman, rather amused at the mistake, but not desirous of having it carried any further, retired into the car.

Fast Transatlantic Steamers.—It is understood that Commodore Vanderbilt is about to build two fast passenger steamers for his transatlantic line. They are to be constructed of wood and braced in the most substantial manner. Their length is to be 400 feet, beam 55 feet and depth only 17 to 18 feet.

Pennsylvania	75,000
Ohio	30,000
Indiana	25,000
Illinois	15,000
Michigan	25,000
Wisconsin	15,000
Connecticut	10,000
New Jersey	Not estimated.

NEW JERSEY.

Newark, Nov. 7.—Perry, the Democratic Congressional nominee is probably elected in Pennington's district. Gloucester and Salem counties are both Republican.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Indiana County, gives Lincoln 5000; gain of 750.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Howard county gives a gain of 419 majority for Bell who has probably carried the State.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 7.—The Legislature voted for Breckinridge and Lane. Columbia S. C., Nov. 6.—The Legislature to-day postponed action till Thursday, upon the Governor's suggestion. Our State, if Lincoln is elected, then will choose the right electors, six favoring secession. There is an overwhelming majority for a Southern Convention. Resolutions will be introduced to-morrow tending a commissioner to the Georgia Legislature. Secession is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans, Nov. 7.—The State has gone for Bell.

ARKANSAS.

Fort Smith gives Bell 250; Breckinridge 235; Douglas 164; Fayetteville—Bell 355; Breckinridge 336; Douglas 70.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Kansas City gives Douglas 487; Bell 368; Lincoln 185; Breckinridge 131; Lexington, Bell 617; Douglas 311; Breckinridge 135; St. Joseph, Douglas 1084; Bell 721; Lincoln 410; Breckinridge 228; Booneville, Bell 312; Douglas 303; Breckinridge 105; Lincoln 11; Independence, Bell 499; Breckinridge 342; Douglas 360; Lincoln 1; Springfield, Bell 115; Breckinridge 183; Douglas 182; Lincoln 21.

ILLINOIS.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 6.—ABRAHAM LINCOLN voted the Republican ticket to-day, erasing his own name from the head of the ticket. Great enthusiasm was shown at his appearance at the polls.

KANSAS Election.

Atchison, Nov. 7.—The Democratic members of the legislature, and all the county officers are elected by 200 majority. A Democratic gain.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—The State has probably gone for Bell.

THIRTEEN EMINENT ENGLISHMEN are shown to have arisen from the obscurest ranks of the people, by a newspaper correspondent, who is indignant at the taunt of low birth thrown out against Mr. Lincoln: "Lord Eldon and Stowell—sons of a barge maker and small coal dealer at Newcastle; Lord Tenterden—son of a barber at Canterbury; he received a very poor education, but obtained the means to go to college; while there he enjoyed from a 'company in the city of London an exhibition of £3 per year until he took his degree. Lord Gifford—prior to his being called to the bar, was many years a poor clerk to a solicitor near Essex. Lord Langdale, the master of the rolls, was many years a poor practicing surgeon. Sir John Williams, one of the judges of the Queen's bench—son of a very poor horse dealer in Yorkshire. Lord Tenterden—son of a very poor man in Cornwall, married a first cousin of Queen Victoria. Mr. Baron Gurney—his mother kept a small book-store for pamphlets in the city of London. Lord Campbell, the present Lord Chancellor, was for many years reporter to the Morning Chronicle. Lord St. Leonard—son of a barber, and was formerly a clerk. Chief Justice Saunders, whose precepts to this day form the best text-book to pleaders, was a beggar boy, first taken notice of by an attorney, who employed him in his office. Lord Kenyon—boot-black and errand boy. Lord Hardwicke—an errand boy. George Canning—son of a poor strolling player."

A goodly patron complained to an elderly lady of his congregation, that her daughter appeared to be wholly taken up with trifles and worldly finery, instead of fixing her mind on things above. "You are certainly mistaken, Sir; I know that the girl appears to an observer to be taken up with worldly things, but you cannot judge correctly of the direction her mind really takes, as she is a little cross-eyed."

The great religions daily called "The World" about which we have heard so much has fallen from grace, if it ever had any to fall from, which is quite doubtful. It is puffing, theatres, balls, etc., and is in no sense a religious daily, except in name. When it started, its owners claimed that they had sufficient capital to carry it forward, without calling in the Devil's aid.—Telegraph.

A spendthrift nobleman had a fortune left him, and was advised by a friend to purchase an estate notorious for its neglected state and sterility. "Why," said his lordship, "there is not a single passable road through the whole estate!" "That is the very reason I wish you to buy it," said the other, "it will take you the longer to run through it!"

 rapidly, so that in the short space months, the whole upper part of my
 was almost entirely lost of its color and much of the remaining portion upon side and back part of my head became gray, so that you will not wonder to hear me tell you that upon my

I at once made application to the skillful physicians in the country, but receiving no assurance of recovery, I could only go to the North. I was forced to be recommended to my fate, until, fortunately in the latter part of the year 1857, your letter was recommended to me by a physician, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and was so much gratified with the result, that I purchased seven more, and the worth of your letter is now made manifest, as a result, have a rich coat of soft black hair, which no money can buy. As a mark of my gratitude for your and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recommended it to many of my friends and acquaintances.

I am happy to inform you, he is using it with like effect. Very respectfully,
